1. It is reported that about four weeks ago, at the close of the Soviet maneuvers in Hungary, Red Army troops at Hajmasker refused to entrain for Yugoslavia stating that they had had enough of war. These troops were surrounded, taken into a forest and decimated. Two hundred and thirty-two soldiers were killed.
2. An indication of some disturbance in the Hajmasker area was received when it was learned that members of the ACC in Budapest were refused Russian passes to visit this area for several weeks after the maneuvers ended.
3. Some Russian troops shipped south from Kőszeg after maneuvers sent cards to friends in Hungary from Albania.
